COMMISSION FOR CONTROL OF ATOMIC THREAT TO WORLD PEACE SUGGESTED

GEN. EISENHOWER DECLARES RUSSIA WANTS TO BE FRIEND

ALLIED EUROPEAN COMMANDER URGES UNIVERSAL MILITARY TRAINING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told congress today "Russia has no slightest thing to gain by war with the United States" and wants to be a friend.

He added that "there will never be a war between Great Britain and the United States"

Testifying in support of President Truman's request for universal military training, Eisenhower told the house committee:

"I believe Russia's policy is friendship with the United States. There is in Russia a desperate and continuing concern for the lot of the common man and they want to be friends with the United States."

The General said he knew that some Russians are concerned over criticism of the Soviets by the United States press. But he added "it is difficult" for Russians to understand a free press as it operates in the United States.

His references to the possibility of war with Great Britain or Russia were made in response to questions by committee members, principally Rep. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) who asked:

"Who do we have as potential aggressors?"

Eisenhower would not specify any nation because he said he could not foretell internataional developments, adding that years ago none thought we would be at war with Germany and Japan.

No One Nation.

Right now, he said, "there is no one nation in the world that can challenge a prepared America."

"The greatest single motivating force for world peace today is the organized military potential of the United States." Eisenhower declared.

In testimony prepared for an appearance before the House Military Committee, Eisenhower cautioned that the development of war techniques would give the United States no time to prepare if it were attacked again.

"With the introduction of atomic and electronic warfare and the astounding advances being made almost hourly in aerial warfare, the tempo is increasing in geometric progression." Eisenhower asserted.

Will Not Have Time to Train

"If war comes to us again the fact seems inescapable that we will not have time to train units before we are faced with the final issue of defeat or victory.

"Certainly it would be unconscionable to gamble on a fortuitous recurrence of the time to prepare bought by the blood of our Allies in 1917 and in 1942.

"We must be prepared on M-Day—the day the enemy strikes—or we may never be prepared to avert defeat at the hands of any aggressor who uses against us the weapons of the future."

Eisenhower contended trained manpower and technological advancement are "our greatest assur-

UNITED AUTOMOBILE WORKERS ASKED TO GUARANTEE SECURITY

FORD MOTOR CO. SAYS UNION HAS HAD SECURITY AND NOW ASKS FOR SAME

DETROIT, Nov. 15—(AP)—The Ford Motor Co. today informed the CIO United Automobile Workers' Union that it does not believe the present is the time to settle upon general wage increases and asked the union for guarantees of company security.

In a letter to the union with which it shortly will open negotiations on a demand for 30 per cent wage rate increases, the company asserted the union has had membership and financial security in its contract with the company, but that "the company has had no compensating security."

"This has become so serious," the letter said, 'that unless some provision can be arrived at in our negotiations to require the union to recognize a full responsibility of its own, the very future of the Ford Motor Co. is at stake."

Accompanying the letter was a statement of 31 proposals which the company sugegsted be accepted as modifications of the present contract between the company and the union.

With reference to a company security, the statement said:

"The company proposes that the union present a plan, to be incorporated in the agreement, which will assure company security, through exercise of union responsibility, which the union shop and check-off plan have not provided; further, that such plan provide effective guarantees against work stoppages and for increased pro-

400 RESIDENTS OF TWO FILIPINO TOWNS SELECTED FOR DEATH

MANILA, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Four hundred residents of the towns of Polo and Obando in Bulacan province, just north of Manila, were selected for death at the hands of Japanese by a mysterious, hooded informer called "The Magic Eye," a witness testified at the war crimes trial of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita today.

Mrs. Felicidad Manuel, mother of two of the victims, said 20 truck loads of Nipponese troops, supported by two tanks and a number of bloodhounds, surrounded the villages on Dec. 12, 1944, and paraded the inhabitants past the informer.

As each passed, a silent nod or shake of the hooded head settled the fate of the individual.

The witness said she was unable to find her two sons, who had been marked for death, in the piles of dead at the local cemetery when she searched the next day. They had been executed in the Polo municipal building.

Mrs. Manuel admitted under defense cross-examination that guerrillas had been very active in the area.

Earlier, Master Sgt. Richard Sakakida, a Hawaiian-born Nisei who was captured by the Japanese on Corregidor and later made civilian interpreter in Yamashito's Baguio headquarters, testified that in one month 1,800 persons, including at least six Americans, were executed by the Japanese at Manila's North cemetery.

NEW STRIKE THREATS IN COMMUNICATIONS, SHIPPING APPEAR

TELEPHONE OPERATORS AND SHIPYARD WORKERS LATEST TO QUIT

(By The Associated Press.)

New strike threats affecting communications and shipping appeared along the nation's labor front today. Work stoppages through the country kept idle some 275,000 men and women.

A strike of more than 7,0000 long distance telephone operators in Illinois, disrupted service in Chicago and about 100 other communities in Illinois and Indiana, was indicated after a breakdown in wage negotiations.

In San Francisco William Burke of the CIO American Communications Association said the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., had refused to negotiate or arbitrate on the unions' demand for a 20 per cent wage increase for long distance telephone maintenance workers. He said there appared "no hope of averting the walkout."

Also in San Franvisco, the AFL steamfitters local urged that strike action be taken by Nov. 25 by all AFL shipyard workers on the Pacific coast. Of the 60,000 workers idle in the San Francisco Bay area because of a strike of AFL and CIO machinists, about 5,000 are steamfitters. The local recommended to the AFL metal trades council that demands be made for 40 per cent wage increases.

APPARENTLY SMALL CHANCE TO RECOVER ANY COST OF WAR

REPARATIONS OFFICIAL SAYS JAP FUNDS WONT COVER COST OCCUPATION

TOKYO, Nov. 15—(AP)—Japanese assets, "ridiculously small by comparison with the actual cost of the war," will not even meet costs of occupation, let alone pay for necessary imports or reparations, Edwin S. Pauley said today.

President Truman's representative on the Allied reparations commision told a news conference U. S. policy will be the same here as in Germany—remove everything in Japan not needed for a useful minimum Japanese economy no higher than that in countries which Japan occupied and remove or destroy every piece of machinery or equipment that specializes in war production.

If possible, everything removed from Japan will be employed gainfully by nations which are entitled to reparations. Schools and colleges want only destroyed by Japanese armies will receive such technical non-warmaking equipment as Japanese armies have in their possession.

Pauley said eh had examined the vault of the Bank of Japan and found 'amazing similiarity" between the 'loot" there and that in the Reichsbank in Frankfurt, Germany, where the United States found gold and other treasure.

He disclosed that his commission

COMMITTEE PROBE OF PEARL HARBOR HELD INTEREST THURSDAY

JAPANESE ENVOYS IN WASHINGTON WORKING BEHIND REAL FRONT

WASHINGTON. Nov. 15—(AP)—Japanese envoys in Washington reported to Tokyo the day before Pearl Harbor that they had been working with "influential" individuals behind their "frontal negotiations" with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull.

This was disclosed today in the release by the congressional committe investigating the Pearl Harbor disaster of intercepted diplomatic messages sent by the Japanese between July 1 and Dec. 8, 1941.

Committe counsel William D. Mitchell officially disclosed the breaking of the Japanese diplomatic code in the summer of 1941 when he placed a 253-page printed copy of intercepted messages into the record.

Hundreds pressed for vantage points as the public hearings into the disaster opened in the Senate office building caucus room.

One "urgent" secret message to Tokyo dated Dec. 6 read:

"In addition to carrying on front negotiations with the President and Hull, we have worked directly and indirectly through cabinet members having close relations with the President and through individuals equally influential (because of its delicate bearing upon the State Department, please keep this point strongly secret). Up until this moment we have the following to report:

Advised Against War

"(1) On the fourth those engaged in plan (a) dined with the President and advised him against a Japanese-American war and urged him to do the 'introducing' at once between Japan and China. However, the President did not make known what he had in mind. According to these men, the attitude of the President is his usual attitude. IMPORTANT EVENTS ON CAPITOL HILL OCCURRED THURSDAY

START OF PEARL HARBOR PROBE AND EISENHOWER APPEARANCE HIGH POINTS

By MAX HALL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—(AP)—Opening of the long-awaited congressional investigation of the Pearl Harbor disaster and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's appearance in support of universal military training were the main events on Capitol Hill today.

The joint Pearl Harbor committee released intercepted diplomatic messages showing that Japanese envoys in Washington reported to Tokyo the day before the sneak attack that they had been dealing with "influential" individuals behind their "frontal negotiations" with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull.

General Eisenhower testified before the House Military Committee He said "the greatest single motivating force for world peace today is the organized military potential of the United States." He asserted "Russia has not the slightest thing to gain by war with the Untied States," that Russia wants to be our friend.

DANGER SIGNALS FLYING HIGH OVER GERMANY AS WINTER AND HUNGER HOLD THREAT OF REVOLT

By DEWITT MAKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Danger signals fly high over shattered Germany as winter closes in with its stark hunger and other privations which hold their threat of revolt.

This crisis finds Allied administration falling short of full efficiency, due largely to France's inability to agree with numerous measures until assured that her allies will support her proposal or international control of the Ruhr and French occupation of the Rhineland. This divergence is now under discussion between America and France in Washington.

Apropos of this critical situation I have a letter from an old friend—a trained observer—now in Germany. He writes largely of the all-important relationship between conquerors and conquered, and here's what he says in part:

"It is a strange feeling to move unarmed among the would-be conquerors of the world. A few months ago they would have attacked you as an enemy. Now some look away, some are curious, many have a cold impersonal look in their eyes—partly wounded pride at defeat, partly preoccupation with the pressing cares of food and fuel for the winter.

"From many of the young element you get a hard look behind which seems to lurk a steely hatred, as though you had robbed them of their future. These fellows feel that we have knocked the bottom out of their lives and taken away the inspiration of a great 'cruse' to live for without replacing it with a comparable challenge. To be toppled from would-be conquerors of the world to unemployed citizens of a ruined, carved-up country is a big jolt for them.

"The youth group are naturally the most indoctrinated with Nazi ideas. Trouble is expected from them this winter.

"In some cases attacks on U. S. personnel have occurred, focusing

RUSSIANS MAKING PREPARATIONS TO LEAVE MANCHURIA

MEANWHILE CHINESE COMMUNISTS MOVE TO GIVE NATIONALISTS TROUBLE

CHUNGKING, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Russians, scheduled to withdraw soon from Manchuria, already have handed over postal and telegraphic services of Changchun, Manchurian capital, to Chinese authorities, an official dispatch reported today.

The transfer of control was made under an agreement permitting Russian use of the facilities until their withdrawal, the dispatch said.

The Chinese government some time ago was notified that Russians would be out of Manchuria by Dec. 1.

At Tsiangtao, meanwhile, Chinese communists were reported moving to block a nationalist relief force headed for violence-dotted Shantung province, and far to the south street fighting flared as communists attacked the highway center of Tsaoyang, 145 miles northwest of Hankow.

Communists Strike Quickly.

Associated Press Correspondent Richard Bergholtz said Communist forces driving to keep nationalists from Shnatung had struck less than 12 hours after the Chinese Nationalist Eighth army began landing from U. S. transports at the marine-guarded port of Tsingtao.

The Reds' Shantung liberation army knifed through to Liu-Ting airfield 12 miles north of Tsingtao and made a diversionary thrust at the field while destroying two main sections of the Tsingtao-Tsinan railroad, Bergholz reported.

Additional thousands of nationalist tropos of the Eighth army continued to pour ashore at Tsingtao, he said, but no major movement inland has been started.

Tsinan, a city of 800,000, and capital of the rich Shantung province, already is virtually besieged by Communists and is dangerously short of food and medicine, he said.

New Red Drive.

Observers in Chungking said that the reported outbreak of fighting in Tsaoyang, northwest of Hankow, probably signalled a Red drive aimed at cutting the Yangtze river route west of Hankow, thus preventing any downriver movement of nationalist troops.

First step in such a drive likely would be occupation of the Han

Auto Dealers Look For Price On New Cars

WASHINGTON, Nav. 15.—(AP)—Auto dealers declared today that when Price Chief Chester Bowles figures price tags for new cars he apparently disregarded the possibility that production may be curtailed by strikes.

W. L. Mallon, president of the National Automobile Dealers association, presented to a congressional committee telegrams from all major car manufacturers except Fod.

He said these clearly showed "it is utterly impossible in the present chaotic situation for any one to accurately estimate 1946 new car production."

"These telegrams," Mallon said, "furnish an unanswerable reply to Mr. Bowles' definite but fantastic statement that dealers may be assured of greatly increased new car production next year."

Mallon appeared before the house small business committee to answer Bowles' arguments for passing a part and possibly all cost increases granted manufacturers or to dealers—without a corresponding increase in retail prices.

Mallon claimed OPA arrived at new car prices—not yet announced —by guesswork.

LARGE-SCALE STREET DEMONSTRATIONS IN TEL AVIV THURSDAY

THOUSANDS OF RIOTERS MILLING IN STREETS IN DEFIANCE OF ORDERS

JERUSALEM, Nov. 15.—(AP)—J. V. W. Shaw, British acting high commissioner for Palestine, issued a "punishment by death" warning today to rioters in the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv, where street demonstrations broke out for the second day.

At least one person was killed and 50 were reported injured today as thousands of persons milled in the streets defying a curfew order imposed after last night's outbreaks which resulted in the death of two Jews and the injury of 27 persons.

Unruly crowds again attacked government property, stoned barricades and stormed against several British buildings.

The general disobedience of the curfew order appeared to be a part of the policy of resistance ordered by the secret Jewish resistance movement against continuance of the British policy of restricted Jewish immigration into Palestine. But most Jewish citizens did not appear to approve direct attacks against British soldiers and activities by the torch gangs.

The first casualties developed last night when troops of the British Sixth Parachute (Red Devils) Division fired to break up crowds.

Troops Rushed Back

The troops were withdrawn temporarily, but were rushed back into the city today when crowds stoned police trucks this morning and the police opened fire. Gunfire was continuing.

Twenty-Per Cent Raise For Civil Service Employes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—(AP)—The Senate Civil Service Committee approved today a bill raising the pay of Civil Service employees 20 per cent.

It left for further consideration proposals to raise congressmen's pay from $10.000 to $20,000, cabinet members from $15,000 to $20,000 and Supreme Court Justices from $20,000 to $.0,000.

The bill provides a 20 per cent increase "for offices or positions in the executive branch." But Senator Mead (D-NY) expressed the opinion this would not apply to cabinet members.

NEWEST STATEWIDE PRORATION ORDER IS FOR 1,938,369 BBLS.

DECEMBER PRODUCTION PLACED BY RAIL COMMISSION ORDERS

AUSTIN, Nov. 15.—(AP)—A statewide proration order issued by the Railroad Commission today is calculated to result in daily production next month of 1,938,369 barrels of crude oil.

Average daily allowable beginning Dec. 1 will be 2,029,707. barrels but estimated underproduction of 4.5 per cent of allowable will reduce estimated daily flow of crude to 1,938,369 barrels or 1,631 more than the Bureau of Mines estimate of December crude demand.

Production of 163,000 barrels daily of natural gasoline and distillate will increase the total petroleum liquid production to 2,101,369 barrels daily or 161,369 barrels more than the Bureau of Mines total estimate of petroleum liquids for December.

Average daily allowable reported by the commission for the week ended Nov. 10 was 2,026,572 barrels.

December's production pattern includes 25 general producing days and 20 for the East Texas field. In November there were 24 general producing days and East Texas had 20. The Panhandle remains exempt from closing days next month.

GERMANS CHARGED KILLING PRISONERS APPEAR DEFIANT

By DON DOANE

DACHAU, Germany, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Forty Germans charged with torturing and killing prisoners in the notorious Dachau concentration camp defiantly faced a U. S. military court today in a trial which may cost them their heads.

An example of rigid military bearing was set for the defendants by Martin Weiss, handsome black-haired SS officer who once commanded the horror camp where it is estimated the bodies of 200.000 persons were consumed in crematories.

When the eight-officer court called upon Weiss to identify himself the German snapped to attention and spat out his name, age and other particulars in a sharp voice.

With few exceptions, the others imitated his demeanor. Each defendant was given a large white card bearing a number which will serve as identification throughout the trial. Lt. Col. Douglas T. Bates of Centerville, Tenn., heads defense counsel.

Prosecution witnesses include former inmates of Dachau brought back from seven countries to testify.

The eight officer members of the trial court will serve both as judges and jury. They previously sat in a case which resulted in the death sentence for a nazi convicted of killing captured American fliers.

HEADS THREE NATIONS IN JOINT COMMUNIQUE ON MATTER THURSDAY

TRUMAN, ATTLEE AND KING SAY WILL HOLD SECRET FOR PRESENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Creation of a United Nations commission to control the threat of atomic destruction in the world was proposed today by the United States, Great Britain and Canada as the best way to tackle the atomic energy problem.

President Truman and Prime Ministers Attlee and Mackenzie King made this known in a joint communique on their three power talks.

At the same time, they declared that the three nations, which alone possess the know-how of atomic bomb manufacture, would not share that knowledge until "it is possible to devise effective, reciprocal and enforceable safeguards acceptable to all nations."

The commission which the three leaders proposed at the conclusion of their six-day conference on atomic problems would be charged with the duty to make specific proposals to these four points:

"1. For extending between all nations the exchange of basic scientific information (on all subjects) for peaceful ends.

Control of Atomic Energy.

"2. For control of atomic energy to the extent necessary to ensure its use only for peaceful purposes.

"3. For the elimination from national armaments of atomic weapons and of all other major weapons adaptable to mass destruction.

"4. For effective safeguards by way of inspection and other means to protect complying states against the hazards of violations and invasions."

In a 1,000-word statement setting forth the results of their discussions, the three chiefs of state prefaced their proposals by saying flatly:

"We are aware that the only complete protection for the civilized world from the destructive use of scientific knowledge lies in the prevention of war.

"No system of safeguards that can be devised will of itself provide an effective guarantee against production of atomic weapons by a nation bent on aggression.

"Nor can we ignore the possibility of the development of other weapons, or of new methods of

DEMOCRATIZATION OF JAPANESE THRONE IS EXTREMELY LIMITED

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO, Thursday, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Abolition of the key position, Lord Keeper of the Privy Seal, but retention of the remainder of the cumbersome inner circle around the emperor was reported today by the newspaper Asahi as the current plan for "democratization" of the throne.

The newspaper said the plan resulted from conferences of representatives of the cabinet, the privy seal, the imperial household ministry, the privy council and senior statesmen seeking a method of keeping pace with prospective revision of the constitution.

The plan will be effected "at an appropriate opportunity," Ashai reported. Its only concession to prospective party government is inclusion of the presidents of both houses of the diet on a board to participate in the selection of new premiers.

The newspaper recently reported that Marquis Koichi Kido, current privy seal keeper and maker and breaker of premiers, planned to resign soon. Kido is away. His secretary told the Associated Press he knew nothing of either report.

A limited, streamlined imperial clique, Asahi said, would replace the present system whereby the privy seal is the principal adviser of the emperor nad the most powerful individual in the empire. The emperor would be advised by the grand chamberlain, the imperial household minister and the president of the privy council.

At cabinet changes, the new premiers would be recommended by the presidents of the privy council and both houses of the diet.

Now is Time For Ordering Of New Nursery Stock

Don't forget to order your nursery stock right away for the new orchards or replacements in the old orchard. Nursery stock is scarce. Order now for early December delivery when you will want to set them out. This reminder comes from Vera Sneed, county home demonstration agent.

In replacing trees in the old orchard with new ones, replace not only the old tree, but the old soil that supported the tree, with new, rich, sandy leaf mold to prevent possible disease attack that may have caused the old tree to "pass out."

Examine nursery stock as soon as received. If it has knots or "beadlike" growths on the roots, don't accept it. Keep the roots moist and protected from heat. If it is necessary to hold them for several days before planting, trench or "heel in" and keep watered.

Select a site free of nematode and away from an old orchard site. Avoid "new ground." A well-drained sandy loam site is highly desirable. Avoid air pockets. Of course, a site having a slight slope and near the house is desirable.

Miss Sneed recommends thorough preparation of the soil well by breaking, disking and rowing before setting the trees. Construct terraces if necessary and plant trees on the contour. Give terraces a slight fall if rainfall is heavy and drainage is needed; run level if moisture conservation is necessary.

In laying out and handling the young orchard, follow carefully recommendations given in B-73, "Orchard Management" bulletins, which may be secured from the home demonstration agent's office.

Lathan Named On Interstate Oil Compact Body

AUSTIN, Nov. 15. (AP)—Sidney Latham, Dallas attorney, today was appointed Texas' representative on the Interstate Oil Compact Commission in succession to the late J. C. Hunter of Abilene.

The appointment was announced by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson.

HUBBARD JAGUARS EXPECTED TO COP DISTRICT PENNANT

Finis will be written in the regular season this week-end in District 18-B with the Hubbard Jaguars expected to carry off the championship.

Hubbard plays the Mildred Eagles at Mildred Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mildred has scored one touchdown this year and has not won a game. The Hill countains are expected to win with comparative ease on this occasion.

Hubbard has a tie game with the Kerens Bobcats to mar their 1945 record. Kerens won the championship of the district last year by defeating Hubbard and the Jaguars won the pennant in 1943 by upsetting Kerens late in the tilt with a sensational aerial rally.

Other games this week-end include Kerens and Trinidad, old-time rivals; Wortham and State Home at Wortham Friday night, Dawson vs. Coolidge and Blooming Grove vs. Frost at Frost, all annual traditional feature attactions despite the fact that the outcomes will have nothing to do with the district pennant.

Hubbard went to the head of the percentage procession and became a favorite to cop the title last Friday night with a 14-6 decision over the State Home Laddies.

Navy Enlistments Are Being Sought

Men volunteering in the regular Navy have the option of electing two, three, four or six year terms of enlistment, according to Chief Yeoman Peerson of the Waco recruiting sub-station. The former regular Navy term was four years.

Applicants 17 years old can enlist for two, three, or not to exceed minority as they are automatically discharged when they reach 21 years of age. Applicants 18 to 30 can enlist for two, three, four or six year terms, and men over 30 can re-enlist if their total previous military service or active duty in the Naval reserve deducted from their present age places them in the 18-30 group.

Navy needs 24,000 new men per month for the next 10 months.

Many new features are attractive to enlistees under the new Recruitment Act recently enacted according to the recruitment service.

The Waco sub-station recruiting office is located in the Waco post office building.

KERENS, Nov. 12.—(Spl.)—The members of the garden club enjoyed a rare treat Friday afternoon when they met in the home of their president, Mrs. W. T. Stockton.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs. C. P. Squire and Miss Dana Kimes who were co-hostesses with Mrs. Stockton, and invited into the living room which was a picture of charm and beauty with its antique furnishings and artistic decorations.

Mrs. H. J. Newsome, vice president presided during the business session and introduced Miss Mary Frances Weedin as leader for the afternoon, Miss Weedin whose subject was "A Garden Path" gave a vivid portrayal using a miniature with which she had fashioned on a tray, showing just the proper border plants, and the correct furniture to be used in a garden. A short history of gardens was included in her discussion which goes back to the Garden of Eden.

Mrs. Dale Owen concluded the program with a very helpful talk on shrubs and trees and showed how to grow them. At the conclusion of the program the guests were invited into the dining room for tea. The table was laid in an ecru Italian cutwork cloth and had for its floral motif an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums in a brass bowl which was surrounded by a colorful arrangement of fruit. A huge antique brass candelabra holding burning tapers and an antique tea service completed the table decorations.

Mrs. J. E. Simmons poured, Mrs. James Taylor served the salad and Mrs. William Stockton and Mrs. Avis Coates served cake and salted nuts.

Guests included Mesdames M. L. Speed, E. H. Gray, Bob Wilson, Andrew McClung, James Taylor, J. E. Simmons, P. N. Stockton, William Stockton, J. B. Coates, and W. A. Fullwood of Dallas.

L. Mallon, protested before the House small business committee that when price administrator Chester Bowles figured prices for new cars he apparently failed to take into account the possible curtailment of production by strikes.

Wallace Statement

2. Secretary of Commerce Wallace told a Senate labor subcommittee that it would be "particularly unfortunate" to hasten return of the U. S. Employment Service to the states.

3. A special Senate committee investigating petroleum resources listened to a plea for the government to speed its exit from the business of operating refineries and pipelines.

Crowds of spectators, reporters and photographers were attracted to the two main events.

Thousands of persons clamored for reserved seats at the Pearl Harbor hearing—but there were no reserved seats for the public There were exactly 265 chairs and they were first come, first served.

Hearings in Marble Room.

The hearings are in a marble room in the senate office building. At the front of the room is a big, colored, relief map of Pearl Harbor and the island of Oahu.

Opening witnesses were Rear Admiral T. B. Inglis, chief of staff, and Col. Bernard Thielan of the army general staff.

Overshadowed by the Pearl Harbor and Eisenhower testimony, but important nevertheless, were these congressional doings:

Critical of Russian Role.

Foreign Relief—Two Republican members of the house foreign affairs criticized Russia's role in the UNRRA program. Reps. Chiperfield of Illinois, and Jonkman of Michigan, told a reporter they want to know more about the relief situation as it relates to the Ukraine, White Russia, and Soviet-occupied Germany

The committee is considering President Truman's request for a second U. S. contribution of $1,350,000,000 to UNRRA.

Government Reorganization — The senate began another day of its long-stretched debate over giving the president authority to streamline federal agencies.

Army-Navy Unification—Generals Omar Bradley and Carl Spaatz were called to testify before the senate military committee on the hotly-argued proposal to put the armed forces under a single department.

CITED—Sgt. Buddy D. Carroll, 20, First Battalion, 334th. Infantry, 84th. Division, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Carroll of Angus, is now in Germany. His outfit received a unit citation for its 'extra heroism and determined action" in the march of the Ninth Army from the Roer River to the Rhine River, Feb. 23 to March 5. 1945. Sgt. Carroll, a graduate of Richland High School, 1943, entered the armed forces April 6, 1944, and went overseas in September, 1944. He wears the ETO ribbon, three battle stars, combat badge and other decorations.

PALESTINE

Dr. Israel Rockach, mayor of Tel Aviv, was read during the same broadcast. The appeal was addressed principally to the youth of Tel Aviv.

Furniture presumably looted from the light industries building was being burned in the street. Thousands of persons were said to be milling through the streets in defiance of rigid new curfwe restrictions.

Many shops also reopened in violation of the curfew, the announcement said.

Paratroopers of the veteran British 6th airbrone division were on duty in the city after quelling riots which cost two lives and left 40 injured last night.

There were unconfirmed reports circulating that a series of explosions had been heard in Tel Aviv.

Police Use Firearms.

Today's reported fatality was said to have taken place when police used firearms against demonstrators in the Petah Tikva quarter, which is near the railway line.

An official British announcement said that 10 rounds were fired by British troops in Tel Aviv last night. According to the statement the troops were ordered to fire when Palestine police armed with batons failed to break up a crowd in Colony Square in a series of six charges.

"Coincident with this incident a crowd of approximately 5,000 was cleared from the square by British troops," the British military communique said.

British Troops Stoned.

The communique also said that Tuesday evening British troops were stoned heavily on Petah Tikva road. When the crowd ignored warnings to disperse, four rounds were fired, the official statement said.

Troops were called out after a meeting protesting the statement on Palestine which British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin made in the House of Commons Tuesday exploded into wild disorder.

After the meeting a crowd of Jewish civilians estimated at between 400 and 500 by British officers marched through the heart of Tel Aviv and repulsed police efforts to disperse them.

Commissioner's Office Fired.

During the demonstration the district commissioner's office was set ablaze with torches, and the central postoffice and two other government buildings were attacked. Police were stoned in stiff fighting around Colony Square in the main business district

The British paratroopers appeared just in time to frustrate a mob effort to touch off gasoline which had been poured into the postoffice.

"The Red Devils"—wearing camouflaged suits and armed with Tommy guns and rifles—hoisted manners which said, in Hebrew, Arabic and English, "Disperse or We Fire."

The cowd continued to throw stones said the British commander, Major John Shopee, and after three British soldiers were wounded, he ordered his troops to fire.

ance for keeping the peace for which we fought."

Upon expiration of selective service, the General said, the nation should be prepared to start training young men who have had no military experience.

Must Be Reinforced

Although veterans of this war constitute a trained reserve, he said, "we must keep it constantly and currently reinforced by younger increments trained in all the most advanced techniques which research and development in the technology of warfare" are bringing forth.

"We must train them to avert World War III, not re-fight world War II," Eisenhower said. Added the General:

"I feel sure that no true American would be willing to take on his own shoulders the awful responsibility for actively prohibiting all training and thus leaving our country defenseless and naked before a future enemy armed with the weapons of that day."

Eisenhower said that in his position overseas he was intimately familiar with the attitude of other United Nations leaders toward the armed forces of the United States.

This familiarity, he said, "assures me that in their minds there exists no fear of our motives in keeping ourselves strong."

The readiness of the United States to meet any threat of aggression, said Eisenhower, is "essential to the success" of the United Nations organization.

around 'fraternization.' Returned prisoners of war in their wehrmacht clothes tend to hang around with young civilians at street corners. Anti-American feeling is being subtly fostered x x x

"Somewhere in the German soul there still lurks that tribal paganism of the forests. Her people are an easy prey to any ideology that lures them with appeals to their love of order, organization and forceful leadership. It should be one of our top priority jobs to see that the right ideology, which can direct Germany's energies into constructive channels, gets to her people in time.

"Hitler was never blind to the power of ideas. But we underrate mental explosives. Technically brilliant and upto-date in invention and production, we are medieval in our ideological weapons in their development and in training our people to use them.

"As a result we (the Allies) are not making the impression we should."

Corsicanans Return From Georgia Visit

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Garrett and C. A. Still arrived home Monday noon from a several weeks' visit with relatives in Moutrie, Ga. They visited in Atlanta and other points.

Mrs. Garrett's sister, Mrs. D. P. Compton, is recuperating from a major operation. Mrs. Garrett repoted that the average yield of cotton in that section of Georgia was 1 1-2 bales per acre this year, and that she saw some producing two bales per acre. Commercial fertilizer is used there.

One Moment Please
By JAMES A. JOHNSON
MINISTER WESTSIDE CHURCH OF CHRIST

A few days ago this item appeared in the newspapers: "Naked and yelling, the infant crown prince of Yugoslavia was baptized in Westminister Abbey today." Now, I don't see how any man can read the Bible and then baptize an infant or anybody else who has never had a change of heart.

If the Bible teaches anything clearly, it teaches preparation of heart before baptism (Acts 2:38). Penitent believers are the only scriptural subjects for baptism. Those who have no sins, or who are not capable of understanding, are not subjects of baptism.

During the dark ages grown people were lined up and forced by the sword to be baptized. I never did think that baptism would do them any good. Likewise, it makes little difference, whether we use the sword or our strong arms, if we force anybody, whether a protesting man or a kicking, squirming baby to be baptized, we do him no good, and our action is ridiculous.

Infant baptism is a byproduct of the theory that babies are born depraved, and need their inherited sins washed away. Most of those who hold to the practice deny the idea which gave rise to it.

CITY-COUNTRY PROBLEMS

Now, with millions of people needing homes, word from Detroit says that home prices are going to be "policed." Members of the Builders' Association explain that because of the overwhelming demand for new homes, it is necessary to keep prices in line by compulsion, lest the industry run away with itself. In case of sale, the new houses will be sold only to those who will occupy them at least for one year, and sales must be at no more than actual cost plus 15 per cent for profit and overhead.

A natural result of such restrictions may be to drive home-builders and owners farther from the cities. And that is probably a good thing —as long as the transportation facilities are adequate. The final result of such city difficulties may be, sooner or later, to start a great wave of city people flowing back to the rural areas—presumably to commute henceforth by air.

IRRESPONSIBILITY

Is Uncle Sam, after fighting two great wars at once and winning magnificently, going to throw away the fruits of victory again as he did so blindly a quarter of a century ago? There is fear of such recklessness in many quarters. General George C. Marshall himself warns the American people that there has begun not only disintegration of the armed forces, but a loss "apparently of all conception of world responsibility."

In short, our present mood and procedure seems already to have started frittering away the benefits of these last five years, with their supposed gains in national strength and safety and our progress for the future.

It is easy enough to understand the let-down of a war-weary world after so great a struggle. But no responsible nation, particularly in so uncertain a world as the present, dares turn its back upon basic realities. For the only possible outcome for such a rash and frivolous procedure would be first to revive and encourage our beaten enemies, and then a little later to find ourselves fighting all over again for our lives and possessions. Can we be again be so tragically irresponsible as that?

Edgar A. Guest

THE DOUBTFUL YOUNG

Whene'er I tell what used to be,
The children doubtful are of me,
And wonder, coddled as are they,
Just how we lived until today.

I tell them of our winter chores:
Of barefoot steps on ice-cold floors;
Of chilblains agony to bear,
And sleeping in our underwear.

I tell them of our boyhood toil:
Of filling greasy lamps with oil,
And trudging through an isle of snow
For coal to keep the stove aglow.

But still, as every graybeard knows
Who pictures thus his boyhood woes,
The youngsters heave a doubtful sigh
And wonder that he didn't die.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

It may be that the government at Washington takes its international tasks too lightly and confidently in what has become, more than ever in our history, a very difficult and doubtful world. This is not simply a matter of atomic bombs and their dangerous complications, but a matter of international ferment and possible danger not clearly visible to the ordinary eye at home and abroad.

We Americans are by nature self-confident and trustful. And since the end of this last war we seem to feel again, for the most part, that all will soon be well. But it may not be so. Certainly any American, at home or in Washington, who takes a keen and honest look at the face of affairs right now, may feel like sitting down and doing some real thinking, and turning again and again to discover, if possible, what is going on abroad.

WHY RUSSIA ACTS SO

One reason, often overlooked, explains much of Russia's policy in Europe. That reason is fear of Germany, which overthrew Russia in the first world war and would have done so in the recent struggle but for Allied aid Not all the valor shown at Leningrad and Stalingrad would have availed, had the combat been between Russia and Germany, only, without the western Allies.

Now the Russians are determined that this shall never happen again. Austria, Hungary, Poland, Romania and Bulgaria were outposts of German power in the last war. The present Soviet arrangements are designed to prevent a repetition. Eastern Europe is now a chain of buffer states under Russian influence. Through annexation to Poland Germany's eastern boundary has been pushed far west. The large German landed estates are being broken up, and the German population in the east is moving out.

Even more than the United States, Russia feels the need of making Germany harmless for the future. All Russian moves in Eastern Europe point to that.

Congess might yet pass a new labor bill to curb irresponsible leaders, but then, what would be the test of irresponsibilty?

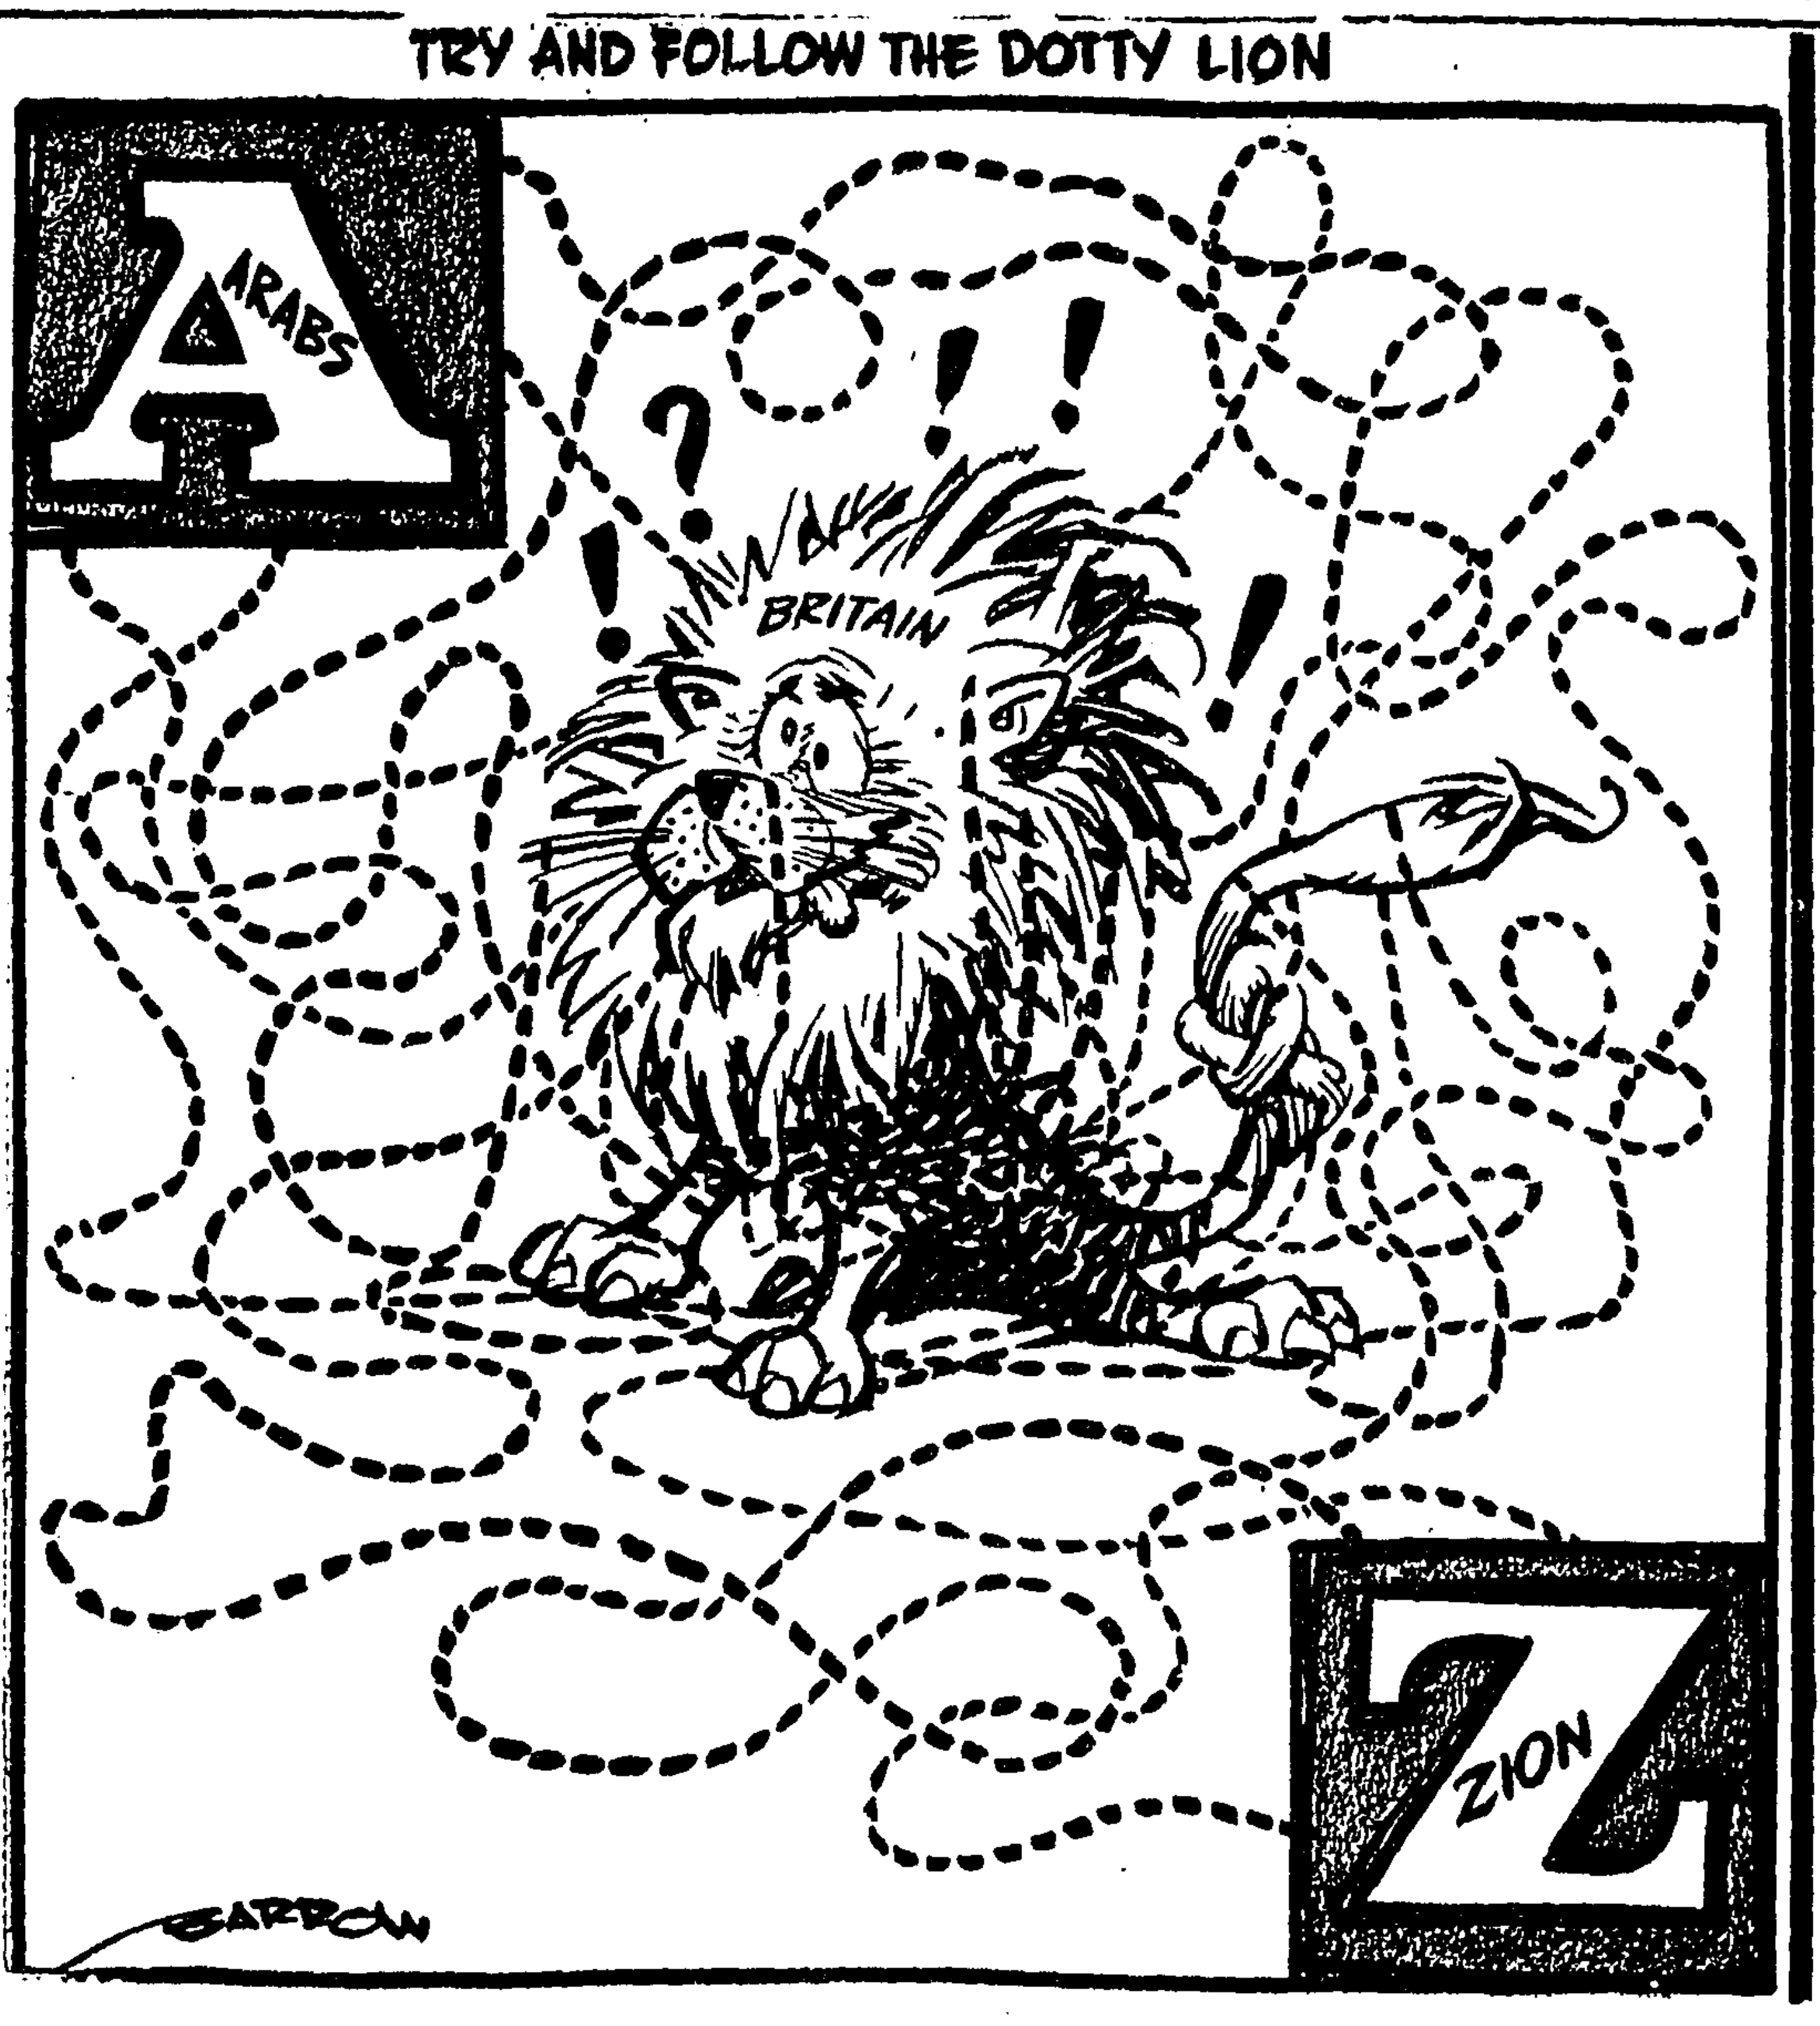
TRY AND FOLLOW THE DOTTY LION



STRANGE TROUBLE

Sweden has a real postwar problem. She has too much meat. The Swedish Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is excited about it. Since no meat animals are being butchered because of already over-full meat storage space, the society says farm animals will soon suffer cruelly from being overcrowded in farmers' barns!

Sweden walked the tight rope between friendship with Germany and antagonism of the allies, thus gaining the questionable distinction of keeping herself out of war. But still she has her troubles. The present one, however, seems likely to disappear before long. Plenty of other peoples within a few hndred miles of Sweden will welcome her excess meat along with the surplus food of Denmark.

NAZI COUNTERFEITERS

Forgery was another accepted Nazi weapon. At a German concentration camp 23 cases were found containing forged British banknotes amounting to about $108,000,000. Printers and designers were picked out from the prisoners and compelled to do work. With this mass of forged currency the Nazis hoped to disrupt the British national economy.

The Nazis practiced so many terrible crimes against individauls that forgery, that most dastardly crime against a whole nation, seems almost unimportant beside them.

Philadelphia and all the other cities that are trying to take away from San Francisco the honor of being the capital of the United Nations can count on the unswering support of Los Angeles.

Corsicana Soldiers in States

Three Corsicanans arrived at Newport News, Va., Wednesday from overseas duty with the U. S. Armed forces, according to Associated Press dispatches. They are Pfc. John H. Lewis, T-Sgt. Howard Dennis and S-Sgt. Nat Womack.

Neighbor Officers Came Home On Same Boat From Europe

Two Corsicana officers, neighbors, arrived home Wednesday after overseas duty in Europe.

Capt. Wade H. Smith, Jr., was discharged from Camp Fannin, Tyler. He rose from a private in the army to his captaincy after enlisting in June, 1941. He spent 21 months overseas in the transportation division.

Major Hood Cheney, Jr., U. S. Army Air Forces, was discharged at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio. He entered the air corps in December, 1940. He received his wings, October 30, 1941, and spent 17 months overseas.

The two oficers whose homes are near on West Fourth avenue, came back to the States on the same boat, landing in New Jersey last Friday.

Corporation Court.

Two were arrested on intoxication charges and two for affray. A white girl was picked up by city police for the sheriff and was taken to the county jail. Local police were requested to be on the lookout for a motorist believed to have been a hitch-hiker who robbed a motorist of his car.

CAPT. JOHN R. MAYS IS FEATURED IN AIR FORCE MAGAZINE

Air Force, the official service journal of the U. S. Army Air forces for October, 1945, carries a picture on its cover of Capt. John R. Mays, Corsicana, looking into the PPI scope aboard a B-29.

Capt. Mays, son of Mrs. John R. Mays, 503 South Fourteenth street, saw service in the Pacific area during the island hopping operations when fighting was hottest, and after returning to the states lectured on navigation, attended the AAF Radar school and began a tour of duty in the Radiation Laboratories in Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he has continued to work on experimental radar and bombing navigation.

The Air Force carried the following article in connection with the cover page picture of Capt. Mays:

"Looking into the PPI scope aboard a B-29 in this month's front cover is Capt. John C. Mays, a radar-navigation specialist, whose experience with radar sets dates back to 1942 in the days of the defensive strikes by the 19th Bombardment Group from Australia. Captain Mays had been a navigator with the 435th squadron when the B-17 outfit was shoved out of Java by the onrushing Japs. Then from Australia, and later from Port Moresby, Captain Mays' outfit began flying sea-search missions using the first ASV (Air-to-Surface Vessel) radar sets in the Southwest Pacific theater.

On-the-Job Business.

"Training in the use of the sets was strictly on-the-job business. A few enlisted men who had accompanied the equipment from the States installed the sets in the planes and showed the navigators on the airstrip how to operate them. The finer points of using the equipment had to be picked up by the navigators in flight. ASV-equipped B-17s would go out on long search missions and, as soon as an enemy convoy was spotted, they would send back reports to guide other 17s with bombs to the prospective target.

"After his return to the States, Captain Mays lectured on navigation in the 2nd Air Force, attended AAF Radar School at Boca Raton, Fla., and began a tour of duty in the Radiation Laboratories at Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he has continued to work on experimental radar bombing and navigation. In January of this year, Captain Mays flew to South America with some experimental tests to determine its reaction to atmosphere with high moisture conteht. The cover photo was taken by T-Sgt. Roger Coster, Air Force staff photographer."

Virginia Sheerer, Kenneth R. Rich Married Sunday

Miss Virginia Sheerer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cato Sheerer, and Kenneth R. Rich, son of Mrs. E. V. Rich, of Richmond, Calif., were united in marriage Sunday afternoon, November 11th at 3:30 o'clock, in a beautiful double ring ceremony at the hame of the bride's parents, 402 South Thirty-Fourth street, in the presence of close friends and relatives.

The house was decorated with cases of gladiolas, zinnias, and chrysanthemums. The ceremony was solemnized by Brother Cato Sheerer. The couple stood before two lighted candlestands, which were lighted by Jimmie Sheerer, brother of the bride, and Allen Heifner, a cousin.

The attendants were Lt. and Mrs. Richard James of Richmond, Va. The bride wore a powder blue suit and hat and brown accessories and a corsage of white gardenies. Mrs. James, matron of honor, wore a gold suit with brown accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Out of town guests included: Dean Adams of Abilene Christian College, Lt. and Mrs. Richard James of Richmond, Va., Pfc. Charles Henry Harrison, Harry Don Anthony, just discharged from Marine Corp, Corpus Christi.

Lt Rich graduated from Albuquerque High School, Albuquerque, New Mexico, and went into the Air Corps and attended A. and M. College, for six months. He took his training as a cadet at Corsicana, Greenville, and graduated a flight officer at Ellington Field, Houston, Texas. He has just returned from nine months duty in the Pacific Theater and is now on a 45-day furlough. Virginia graduated from Corsicana High School in 1943 and attended Abilene Christian College last year. She was cashier at Marks Bros. department store before her marriage.

The couple left immediately for a 10-day trip to New Orleans, after which they will be here a few days and then will go to California, where he will report to San Francisco at the end of his leave.

CITY IS SEEKING COUNTY ASSISTANCE TO BUILD AIRPORT

An airport delegation headed by Danny Nicholson and Mayor John C. Calhoun appeared before the commissioners' court Monday afternoon in the interest of getting the county to join the city in the airport project northwest of Corsicana.

Mayor Calhoun asked that the court help in the dirt work needed to be done now on the two runways and then join the city up to $25,000 in the 50-50 proposition for the airport.

Following a private conference of the commissioners, Drew Gillen, commissioner of Precinct 4, Blooming Grove, advised Nicholson that it was the opinion of the commissioners that should the court undertake this work, they would run into "entanglements" and possible court action. The commissioners had previously mentioned the bad condition of their roads.

L. I. Griffin, Corsicana, property owner in Precincts 1 and 4, addressed the court in the matter after the delegation had retired, and stated that Corsicana needed an airport and he was for it—that the city officials, also property owners, were looking after Corsicana's interest, and that he and other property owners wanted the tax money for the county spent for the good of the entire county unless there was a surplus. He said it would be difficult to get a dirt farmer on a bad road to see how building an airport near Corsicana would help him as much as fixing his road.

Griffin said Corsicana needed an airport but should pay for it.

Those inducted from Draft Board No. 2 were Carl Cecil Adkins, James Walter Honea, Sam Marvin Cottongame, Marion Chesser, Jerry Lynn Murff and Harold Alton Dunagan, Jr., all to the army.

Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Marion Whitten returned to Dallas on Monday following a week-end visit in the home of Mrs. R. M. Whitten and family.

STEERS EXHIBITED BY FROST YOUTH BRING TOP PRICE

Jimmie Hooser, Frost, 4-H Club member who exhibited two Hereford steers at the Pan-American Hereford Exposition in Dallas this week, even though his animals were not judged the best came out on the winning side.

In the auction sale of Junior steers during which a total of 125 steers was sold Monday afternoon, Jimmie's 1,030 pound steer brought 26 cents a pound, while he sold a lighter weight animal tipping the scales at 985 pounds at 27 cents. This price was nearing the average, which was reported at 28 cents for the 125 steers sold.

Jimmie is responsible for deopment of the animals, fed as a part of his work as a 4-H Club member of the Frost club. He was the only Navarro county 4-H member exhibiting at the show. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hooser of Frost.

COTTON YIELDS ARE APPRAISED BY COMMITTEEMEN

Navarro County AAA community committeemen met at the local AAA office at the courthouse Tuesday to appraise yields on cotton acreage and set up cotton insurance rate for 1946, C. T. Young, ACA secretary, announced.

Where a 5-year reliable production record is available, the average is obtained simply by division, Young stated.

In many cases such a record is not on hand and the committeemen investigate production records obtainable and determine amount of coverage per acre to be allowed in each case. Some farmers in this area have produced cotton as little as one year out of five, the ACA Secretary stated.

POWER GREATER THAN ATOMIC BOMB RESIDES IN PUBLIC MIND*

If Christian Principles Animate Us All, the World Will Be Safe - - Influence of Christian Church Paramount - - Some Characteristics Of Church's power

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS

There is something mightier than the atomic bomb—the character and purpose of the people, who control it. If the major influence of human society is animated by good will toward all men, then the atomic power will be used only for good, and not for destruction. The hoarding of scientific secrets will not protect us from the ravages of the atomic bomb, but only the spread of the Christian principles of good will and generosity.

Our world's real power resides in the minds and hearts of people—people just like you and me. Whatever influences men and women to think good thoughts, and live good lives, represents ultimate power.

Today's lesson calls us to consider the influence of the Christian Church throughout the ages, whic has undeniably been the greatest shaping force in the life of the past twenty centuries. History tells the story—of savage lives made clean and friendly; of laws and governments changed into the pattern set by Jesus; of education freed and made hospitable to human progress, of slavery abolished, of poverty lesened and of saintly lives created. I wish every reader could visit the Catacombs in Rome, with their evidences of a faith that outmatched imperial Rome. That mighty empire was changed by the power of Christian preaching and practice.

The Church Through the Ages

Sadly divided as is the Church, and bitter as are its sectarianisms, it nevertheless has kept the torch of the one Gospel burning and lifted high. Our own day is witnessing a rebirth of tolerance and cooperation and unity.

Our world's present emergency is turning men's minds everywhere to basic thoughts of God, and to the renewed and all-potent place of the Church in shaping character. From the forgotten islands of the Pacific have come evidences of the transforming power of Christianity upon lives long steeped in barbarism. The experiences of our fighting men, rescued by Christian converts, has made a deep impression upon the world. I quote again the message of one of them, down on a Pacific Island:

Dear Mom. "I am being feasted, instead of being feasted upon, because the missionaries got here first."

On the Buda side of Buda-Pest, in Hungary, there stod, before the war—and I hope still stands—a great bronze statue of St. Gilert, holding aloft a golden cross, and facing east. At his feet, in submision, were granite figures of penitent Huns. The meaning is obvious, that the only real conquest of the eastern hordes is by way of the cross.

As one who has seen the difference between the Christian and the non-Christian Asiatics. I can testify to the power of the Gospel to transform lives.

In the Train of the Church

We are all familiar with the story of the settlements in our own west—wild lawless godless—until the misionary and the Church came to transform their character into the modern Christian towns and cities that we know. For where the Church goes there follows the spirit of civic responsibility, of law and order, of neighborly good will, and of personal good conduct.

Empires and cities have risen and fallen since Christ established His Church; yet she has survived them all, permeating life with His teachings. All that is best in our civilization derives from Him.

And His leadership will yet save our imperilled world. Slowly, surely the Church is awakening to her pressent mision. Hers it is to put a Divine imperative into the hearts of men. There are deep movings today among the masses of mankind. The "left," to which society is steadily tending, is at its core the Kingdom of Heaven program of life. Harry Kemp has put the conception of the Universal Christ into verse:

"I cannot put His presence by, I meet Him everywhere;
I meet Him in the country town, the busy market-square;
The Mansion and Tenement attest His presence there.
'Upon the funneled ships at sea He sets His shining feet;
The Distant Ends of Empire not in vain His Name repeat,—
And like the presence of a rose, He makes the whole world sweet.
"He comes to break the barriers down raised up by barren creeds;
About the globe from zone to zone, like sunlight He proceeds;
He comes to give the World's starved heart the perfect love it needs,—
'The Christ. Whose friends have played Him false, Whom Dogmas have belied,
Still speaking to the hearts of men—tho shamed and crucified,
The Master of the centuries, Who will not be denied'"

Our Lesson text tells the story of Antioch, where the disciples were first called Christians, and where the vast missionary enterprise of the Church began. This is the same heathen Antioch so vividly described in "Ben Hur." It was a sink of Roman iniquity at its worst. Yet there a comprehensive Christian Church developed including both Jews and Gentiles. A Negro, Simeon Niger, is listed among the leaders.

There in Antioch began the great missionary crusade, led by Barnabas and Paul, which has continued to this day; and upon which civilization's spread leans more heavily than it knows.

MUSIC AND LYRICS 'Y GEORGE AND IRA ‹ERSHWIN AGAIN

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 15—(AP)—"Music and lyrics by George and Ira Gershwin"—Those magic words will appear again on a new motion picture.

Ira Gershwin is completing the lyrics for "The Shocking Miss Pilgrim," a score he has written in collaboration with unpublished works by his brother George. At his home, Ira told me how it happened.

"When George died in 1938," he said, "Kay Swift, who had worked with him, and I went over all of his notes. We were able to collect at least 37 tunes. We put them away, together with a dozen songs my brother and I had written but never used."

This year 20th-Fox producer William Perlberg asked Ira to do a score for the "Pilgrim." They hunted for a composer, but all seemed to be busy or unacceptable. One day Ira again met Miss Swift and he hastened to Perlberg with the suggestion: "How would you like me to write the score with George?"

I asked to hear the songs and Ira consented, allowing that it was the first time he had ever auditioned for the Associated Press. Miss Swift played the piano and the lyricist sang for the first public performance of the new Gershwin tunes.

It was a rare experience to hear the songs of a genius whose work was believed to be concluded. All of the 10 tunes are unmistakably Gershwin and at least one, "For You, for Me, Forever," should be as big as any of his hits.

Twentieth-Fox bought the autobiography of Sol Hurok, "Impresairo," for more than $100,000. It will feature a bevy of concert artists, Patrice Munsel being the first of sign..Ida Lupino will be in the Raymond Chandler thriller, "The High Window," opposite John Payne..Robert Walker off to Arizona for a two-week rest..The Victor McLaglens expect a child in six months..Jo Stafford, one of this column's favorites, returns to the supper club on the radio Dec. 11—Peter Lawford dating Buff Cobb..Bill Eythe is moving into his valley home..Yvonne De Carlo is taking flying lessons. There's a girl I'd like to be up in the air with.

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—(AP)—A reader, unless he kept score, might be astonished at the mass of comment on atomic energy, piled up in newspaper files, since the bomb hit Hiroshima last August.

That bomb jolted American thinking. It seems now that everyone has an idea on how the world should be run and atomic energy controlled.

The ideas range like this:

Set up a world republic, keep the secret, outlaw the bomb, let the United Nations Organization handle it, furnish UNO with a task force of atomic bombers, let the international court of justice solve international disputes, its word to be final.

Senator Glen Taylor, Idaho democrat, proposed in a senate resolution that a world republic be set up.

Men have long dreamed of the time when all nations would be part of one government. But this would mean the end of national independence as we know it.

Taylor told the senate he's disappointed that his suggestion hasn't received more notice. He added that when he first came here and sand on the Capitol steps he got a lot of attention.

The suggestion that we keep the secret and supply the UNO with a task force of atomic bombers to keep world peace may seem all right to Americans, but other nations are apt to be a little worried

The secret of making the bomb won't be a secret very long and an American task force of atomic bombers would mean America need not fear atomic bombing, but America only.

Outlawing the bomb might not work. People point to the fact that poison gas wasn't used in World War II as an example of how nations can get together to outlaw a vicious weapon.

But poison gas worked two ways and it was good policy for Germany not to try to use it in the war just ended. The allies would have been able to bomb Germany with gas, probably with more disastrous results.

Because poison gas wasn't used in World War II is no guarantee, in spite of any promises made about World War III, that it would not be used. One good atomic bomb raid might make it impossible for the bombed nation to retaliate.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

TOKYO—(AP)—Leaves from a correspondent's notebook:

Getting home has ceased to be a mere obsession with many individuals who are sweating out the final weeks before their discharge from the army or navy. It has become a mania. They can't talk or think about anything else.

Consider the following desperate case:

A hitch-hiking naval officer, given a ride by a correspondent, explained that he was in town on a one-day pass from his ship. "It's a tanker," he added, "We have millions of gallons of high test gasoline aboard and as soon as we can unload we can start hime. But we've been cruising around here for 40 days and can't find anybody who will take it. If we don't get rid of it pretty soon I swear I'm going to dump it out myself."

Te paused and looked at the sympathetic correspondent—then added, hopefully:

"You and your friends come out any time and fill your cigaret lighters. Every little bit helps."

Ruined cities hold a fascination at all hours. Their utter desolation casts a spell over you, as though you were watching some strange, fantastic life pattern sinking into death. At dawn, Tokyo looks like a moon metropolis destroyed by a titanic convulsion—dead, deserted and bare.

Strolling through its chilly streets one morning recently I met three patrolling American military policemen and stopped to chat. They were two veterans—Pfc. Clifford L. Hill, Marion, Ark., and Pfc. Jerry A. Smith, Platte, S. D.—and a new man they were breaking in, Pvt. Frank Regaldo, San Dimas, Calif.

Like many other MP's I have talked to, they have come across few or no cases of violence.

"I don't know of one case of armed robbery in Central Tokyo in a month," said Hill, and Smith added: "We haven't had a bit of trouble from the Japs—and I don't mind saying how surprised I am."

Regaldo said he thought Tokyo was "as peaceful as California—but much deader."

"In another month, when cold weather really sets in, I wouldn't want to walk around here at night, even with my buddy along."

As the three soldiers marced off, a dirty, unkept Japanese man crawled out from one of a number of squalid rubble shelters dotting the adjoining demolished area. He was naked except for a ragged shirt. Fragments of broken plaster that had been his pillow clung to his matted hear.

Shivering, he watched with an expressionless face as the military police swept on down the road. Then he stumbled over and began to drink his breakfast from the broken water main.

He is just one of thousands of Japanese Jeeter Lesters in Tokyo's real-life "Tobacco Road."

settled the strike question, I understand that he did so on the advice of these individuals.

"(2) Those carrying on plan (b) included all of our proposal of November 20th into that of September 25th and after incorporating those sections in the United States' proposal of November 26th which are either innocuous or advantageous to us—(message incomplete)."

Throughout the message ran the Japanese contention that they weren't starting war—that the United States and Britain were pushthem into it.

War Report

A December 7 message from Budapest to Tokyo said:

"On the 6th, the American Minister presented to the government of this country a British government communique to the effect that a state of war would break out on the 7th."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) later told a reporter this message referred to the breaking out of hostilities between the Great Britain and Hungary and not to any clash between the United States and Japan.

There was no official explanation of the message in the document.

The Japanese consul at Honolulu was disclosed in another committee exhibit to have reported to Tokyo on December 6, 1941, that these vessels were in Pearl Harbor on that date:

"Nine battleships, three light cruisers, three submarine tenders, 17 detsroyers, and, in addition there were four light cruisers, two destroyers lying at docks (the heavy cruisers and airplane carriers have all left)."

The message, intercepted by the Navy, added:

"It apepars that on air reconnaissance is being conducted by the fleet air arm."

Notations in the exhibit showed this message was not translated until December 8.

First Witness.

Rear Admiral T. B. Inglis and Col. Bernard Thielen were sworn as the first witnesses. Neither was at Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, but they were called to give the committee a "narrative statement" of the disposition of army and navy forces in the Hawaiian area on that date.

In Pearl Harbor were eight battleships and 87 lesser vessels. All the battleships were disabled by the Japanese raid.

Ingliss testified that on Nov. 25, 1941, Admiral Harold E. Stark, then chief of naval operations, ordered shippping to the Philippines to proceed via southern route, rather then the Great Circle route to the north, "thus avoiding as much as possible he sea areas controlled by the Japanese mandated islands."

Army Dispositions.

Thielen, an instructor at West Point at the time of Pearl Harbor, gave a report on army dispositions. He said Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, the Hawaiian commander, had 43,000 men under his command when the Japanese struck.

Admiral Inglis testified that there was no written record available that any air searches were made out of Pearl Harbor on December 6.

Col. Thielen testified that no shore line patrols were being flown by the army on the morning of the attack. He retold the story of how Pvt. Joseph L. Lockard had picked up the Japanese attack flight on a mobile radar machine that morning.

Curious Spectators

Curiosity-drawn spectators filled seats and pressed for standing room today as a joint Senate-House committee opened public hearings on the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, the Naval Commander at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese attacked, arrived early to claim a front row seat. At a table near the witness chair, Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, the Hawaiian Army Commander of 1941, found a vantage point.

William D. Mitchell, committee counsel, opened the hearings by placing in the record a 253-page printed copy of intercepted Japanese diplomatic messages covering the period between July 1 and December 8, 1941.

He thus made the first offical disclosure that American armed forces had broken the Japanese diplomatic code and were reading Japanese messages to Washington and other capitals long before fighting began.

Shortly after the call to order an electric fuse blew out and plunged the jam-packed room into gloom.

TEXAS BAPTISTS WOULD BAR TRUMAN FROM ANY DEGREE

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 15—(AP)—Dr. E. D. Head, president of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary here, was elected to his third term as president of the Baptist General Convention of Texas at the close of its 60th annual meeting today in a session which also leveled criticism at President Truman.

Other officers chosen were Rev. Forrest Feezor, Fort Worth, first vice president; Rev. Odell Jameson, Dallas, second vice president; Rev. D. B. South, San Antonio, and Rev. Roy Johnson, Canyon, secretaries.

Selection of the place of meeting next Nov. 12-14 was referred to the executive board for possible decision in April. Rev. Douglas Hudgins, Houston, was named convention preacher, with Rev. C. E. Hereford, Lubbock, as alternate.

Censuring President Truman, a Baptist, for his asserted attitude toward gambling and drinking, the convention, on motion of Rev. L. L. Roloff, Corpus Christi, instructed trustees of all Texas Baptist colleges and Universities not to confer an honorary degree on persons holding to "such a position."

The President has been invited to accept an honorary degree at Baylor University.

'No Baptist school should confer a degree on a man who likes his poker and drinks his bourbon," Rev. W. L. Shuttlesworth, Houston, chairman of the Civic Righteousness Committee, asserted. "I know that we all agree that no man—even the President of the United States—could be a good Baptist and drink his liquor."

The convention also (1) petitioned Mr. Truman to recall Myron C. Taylor as the President's personal representative at the Vatican.

ATOMIC

warfare, which may constitute as great a threat to civilization as the military use of atomic energy. The statement made a distinction between what was called the "fundamental scientific information" about atomic developments and "the specialized information regarding the practical application of atomic energy."

Scientific Information.

The three leaders noted that actually the scientific information "has already been made available to the world," and they added that "it is our intention that all further information of this character that may become available from time to time shall be similarly treated."

Obviously with Soviet Russia priarily in mind, they then said that "we trust that other nations will adopt the same policy, thereby creating an atmosphere of reciprocal confidence in which political agreement and cooperation will flourish."

But as for the detailed knowledge of practical application of atomic energy, the three asserted that should be kept secret until the world is better organized, through the United Nations, to receive it with strong assurances that it would not be used for destructive purposes.

At Press Conference.

The statement was issued by President Truman, Attlee and Mackenzie King at a White House press conference held about 10:10 a. m. CST. The three completed their deliberations last midnight.

Shortly before scores of newsmen crowded into the President's office, several senators—including Chairman McMahon (D-Conn), of the senate's atomic committee—filed in to witness the signing of the joint statement.

Present also were Secretary of State Byrnes, Admiral William D. Leahy, the President's chief of staff, and other officials.

Attlee was seated on the President's right and Mackenzie King on his left.

As silence fell, the President arose behind his desk and told the newsmen that he would read a document signed by the Prime Ministers and himself.

Read Full Text.

Any questions, he said, would have to come later when reporters were familiar with the statement. He then read rapidly the entire text.

When he finished he held the text up for those in the room to see the signatures, then informed reporters that was all he had to say.

The proposals described in the statement presumably will be transmitted immediately to Russia and possibly to all other members of the United Nations.

In the main, these followed ideas which British sources had attributed to Prime Minister Attlee when he first arrived here but they obviously included suggestions which had not come from him.

Throughout the statement, considerable emphasis was placed on the role which the United Nations should play if control of atomic energy is to succeed.

Attlee and MacKenzie King have been in Washington since last Saturday. They are scheduled to leave tomorrow for Canada.

river towns of Fancheng and Siangyang, southwest of Tsaoyang, around which the Communists have been active.

Another official Chinese report said that Communist attacks have been rendering repairs to the southern section of the Tientsin-Pukow (Tientsin-Nanking railroad extremely difficult, and that the work might have to be suspended.

Renews American Attacks.

The Communist New China Daily News renewed its blast against American "intervention" today with the accusation that a recent statement of U. S. policy by Secretary of War Robert Patterson was "not truthful." Patterson had announced that U. S. forces would protect American lives and property in China, and that there was no danger of their becoming involved in civil strife unless they were attacked—in which case they would "react with vigor and success."

"His assertion that American forces won't be involved unless they are attacked is the height of ridiculousness," the Red Newspaper said. It termed "even more ridiculous" Patterson's statement that U. S. forces would be used to protect American lives and property in China.

Other Charges.

"If the (American) forces withdraw, there'll be no American lives in North China to protect," is asserted.

The newspaper listed these other unconfirmable charges of American "intervention" today:

America is sending 1,000 tanks to Chiang's armies and is planning to train 10,000 Chinese airmen.

Two American ships loaded with arms and soldiers (presumably Chinese, although the News did not say) recently landed at Tangku near Tientsin, proceeding immediately to Tientsin.

One hundred American-manned tanks are heading for Shanhaikwan, the great wall's coastal gate, en route to the inner Mongolian province of Chahar.

American planes based at Tsingtao are carrying out extensive reconnaisance.

An American plane strafed the North gate of Lini, in Southeastern Shantung province, Nov. 2, killing a child.

Larger and Heavier Packages For Troops

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—(AP)—Larger and heavier packages now may be mailed to American troops outside the United States.

The War Department said that beginning today packages up to 42 inches long or 72 inches in length and girth combined and weighing up to 11 pounds may be sent. Previous regulations set a limitation of 15 inches in length, .6 inches in length and girth combined and a maximum weight of flev pounds.

It still will be necessary to have a specific request from a soldier overseas in order to send any package weighing more than eight ounces.

Settlement Hopes Righ.

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 15.—(AP)—Hopes for a settlement of the 66-day old Ford Motor Co. of Canada strike were running high in Windsor today as the strikers met to consider "unanimous recemmendations" from a top union group.

The proposals were drawn up last night by leaders of the CIO United Automobile Workers and the Canadian Congress of Lagor, recently returned from conferences with Dominion officials at Ottawa, and heads of striking Ford Local 200, UAW-CIO.

GLENN CASE WILL BE RULED UPON BY ACCIDENT BOARD

AUSTIN, Nov. 15.—(AP)—The State Industrial Accident Board will reconsider the case of O. E. Glenn, whose settlement agreement with an insurance company was once rejected by the board and which wound up in the supreme court, Chairman John Y. Laird said today.

The court yesterday ruled that Glenn's case was still pending before the board, and that the courts have no power to force the board to approve a settlement agreement

Glenn and his insurance carrier, the Petroleum Casualty company, had come to an agreement on his compensation for an injury received while working on a pipeline. Under the formula used in computing his insurance under this agreement, he would have received less than he would have had the Industrial Accident Board's formula been followed.

The Industrial Accident Board refused to approve the settlement, and Glenn and his insurance carrier joined in an attempt to force the board tto approve it, by writ of madamus. This the supreme court—in its third run at the case in less than a year—finally decided could not be done. Therefore the original case, including the board's disapproval, is back in the board's lap.

Laird said that the board would follow its usual procedure, hold the hearing and issue an award ' the Glenn case.

"Then if he and his carriers are not satisfied, they may appeal our final ruling to the courts, as we understand the decision," Laird said.

He considers the case important in that the formula the board has followed for at least 25 years is under attack.

Bodies Of Seven American Airmen Found Near Tokyo

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 15—(AP)—The bodies of seven American airmen, six with ropes or wire around their necks have been found in two crude graves near Tokyo, Eighth Army headquarters said today.

Two of the bodies were found in an unmarked grave after a Japanese girl pointed out the site. One of the airmen had been bound at the hands and had a rope about his neck. They have not been identified.

Workmen at a nearby foundry said they saw two fliers parachute to safety during a raid on Tokyo May 25. They were taken into custody by Japanese police, the workmen said.

Mrs. Jimmie Nell Sutton, formerly of Corsicana, has accepted a position with Brainiff Airways and will serve in the capacity of stenographer at Dallas national headquarters of the airline.

SWEEPING REVIEW OF AMERICAN REGIME IN GERMANY FORECAST

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Diplomtaic News Editor.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—The United States and France have begun talks here on the most critical issue now blocking effective Allied administration of Germany: France's proposal for non-German control of the Ruhr and Rhineland.

This became known today amid strong indications that President Truman and Secretary of State Byrnes are about ready to undertake a sweeping review of American administration in Germany.

Their objective will be to try to work out some means of preventing explosive conditions in the reich from getting worse as winter sets in.

Mr. Truman scheduled a conference today with Byron Price, a special presidential emissary who is just back from a study of the broad question of relations between the battered German people and the American occupation forces.

Similarly the return of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has afforded the war and state departments, as well as the White House, an opportunity for a further check on critical German conditions already outlined during the recent conferences here of Lt. Gen. Lucius Clay, Eisenhower's deputy, and Ambassador Robert Murphy, his chief political advisor.

Eisenhower himself, in a recent report from Berlin, stressed the gravity of the situation, cautioning that there may be open revolt in Germany in the months immediately ahead.

Recent information from official sources in Germany is that the military government is badly snarled in the red tape of military procedures and is completely lacking in any flexibility with which to meet day to day emergencies.

COMMITTEE IS TOLD GOVERNMENT SHOULD QUIT OIL BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—An oil industry representative told a senate committee today the government should get out of the business of operating refineries, pipelines, and other federally-owned oil facilities.

All such surplus property commercially usable should be sold, said W. Alton Jones, president of War Emergency Pilepines, Inc., in a statement prepared for a hearing by the special senate committee investigating pertoleum resources.

Emergency Pipelines, Inc., operates the government-owned "big inch" and "little big inch" pipelines running from Texas to New York and Philadelphia. The question of whether these should be shut down, leased or sold has caused considerable debate in congress.

Jones(who also is president of Cities Service Company, suggested "the money expended by the government for constructing such lines could well be charged to cost of conducting the war. Their costs have been more than recovered by savings to the government in cost of moving oil developed to the East Coast."

He spoke as chairman of an industry committee appointed by the National Oil Trade Association.

A group of Texas oil men headed by D. Harold Byrd of Dallas, who seek to buy the "Big Inch" and "Little Inch" pipelines appeared at the hearing and awaited their turn to testify.

Byrd and his associates would acquire the lines for use in transporting natural gas from Texas to the East. They are reported ready to put up as much as $100,000,000 for the two lines.

There is ample market for the gas, the supply is abundant, and the group will pay producers 10 cents per 1,000 cubic feet at the well, Byrd told reporters.

The pipelines would be bought by the "Independent Petroleum Co-Operative Association." It was incorporated in Texas by three Dallas men, E. B. Germany, L. M. Glasco and W. L. Pickens.

Rev. Finis Crutchfield, district superintendent of the Corsicana District of the Methodist church, was in Waco Tuesday on official business.

NUMEROUS ITEMS BE FREED FROM PRICE CONTROLS NOV. 20TH

WASHINGTON, Nv. 15—(AP)—Some printed paper products and services will be freed of price controls November 20, along with additional metals and a number of other items.

Announcing this today, OPA said that in each case the action is prompted by balanced supply and demand or by a finding that living and busines costs will not be affected.

Price ceilings will be suspended on such printed paper products as bound blank books, indexing systems, social security stationery, pads and commercial supplies, and on some greeting cards.

Christmas and all other seasonal greeting cards remain under retail price ceilings, but ceilings at prior sales levels are being suspended. All ceilings on all other greeting cards are being lifted.

The ceiling suspension also covers services on these items, including the printing, publishing, typesetting, plate-making and binding of them.

Nylon Hose to Be Lower After Nov. 20

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Prices of nylon hosiery, if you can find them, will be 25 per cent or more lower on Nov. 20.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles said today the new ceiling prices will be based on June, 1941, costs because this was "the last normal prewar market for nylons.

Retail prices for first-quality full-fashioned nylons will range from 95 cents to $2.05 a pair as compared with the former range of $1.65 to $2.50 a pair.

OPA said women will have to pay no more than $1.20 to $1.40 a pair for the most popular kind of nylon hose—first quality, full-fashioned, all nylon, 45 gauge. This is 45 to 65 cents below present prices.

BRITISH INDIAN TROOPS HAMMERED AT HEART SOERABAJA

By LEIF ERICKSON

BATAVA, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Britsh Indian troops hammered steadily at native strongpoints in the heart of Soerabaja today, but with the pitched battle in its sixth day there was "no slackening in Indonesian resistance" anywhere in the naval base, a British announcement said.

The 123rd Indian Infantry Brigade battled into the justice and government buildings, formerly identified as major headquarters for 15,000 Indonesian nationalist troops. They occupied the buildings after a bitter fight against nationalist defenders who used light automatic weapons, medium machineguns and some supporting armored vehicles.

While the fighting continued unchecked in Soerabaja, Sutan Sjanrir, youthful new premier who is pledged to attempt to end the hostilities, issued a 15-page pamphlet in Batavia, outlining his principles for the future of the Indonesians.

Sjahrir deplored the Japanese propaganda which he said taught his people to hate all foreigners, and asserted:

"All the unrest in the community is directed to an aversion to foreign peoples present in our country, to the marching with lances, that has now already grown into murder and robbery and other tendencies that, seen from the viewpoint of the struggle for social reform, signifies nothing and is reactionary ,as every fascist deed will always be reactionary.

The British, using a minimum of forces to prevent heavy casualties, pressed the attack slowly in Soerabaja.

POSTPONEMENT OF WAR CRIMES TRIAL DYING KRUPP GRANTED

By DANIEL DE LUCE

NUERNBERG, Nov. 15.—(AP)—The international military tribunal granted today a defense motion for a postponement of the war crimes trial of "dying" Gustav von Bohler und Halbach until "his physical and mental condition permits it."

The court of the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France ordered charges in the Krupp indictment retained in the docket on the posibility that the 75-year-old armanents maker might recover sufficiently to come to court.

The tribunal quoted findings of its inter-Allied medical commission that Krupp was irremediably suffering from "senile softening of the brain."

The tribunal's interest in speeding the legal pace seemed to have been demonstrated in a remark by Britain's Lord Justice Goeffrey Lawrence, who said the reading of the 35,000-word indictment in court could be dispensed with if the defense was agreeable. He said its contents "already are well known."

Lawrence, permanent court chairman, told 23 German defense lawyers assembled for instruction in court procedure for the trial that the presentation of the prosecution's case would take a long time, and would provide ample time for completion of their preparation. Defense lawyers have asked postponement for preparation.

The tribunal received assurance from the defense counsellors of their confidence in the conduct of the trial.

PENN MIGHT TURN IN BIG UPSET WITH DEFEAT OF ARMY

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Don't snicker too much at Penn's chances of turning in the football upset of the year by beating mighty Army at Franklin Field in Philadelphia Saturday.

On paper, everything points to the unbeaten, untied West Point Cadets making the Quakers their 17th straight victims, but it might be well to recall what happened to Army's famous 27-bame basketball winning streak in Philly last February.

Then, as now, the Cadets had swept everything before them and were topheavy favorites. It looked like a runaway when Army rolled up an early 15-4 lead, but Penn pulled up to 29-25 at halftime, then went ahead in the second half for an astounding 61-52 triumph.

Basketball may be one thing, and football another, but if an underdog team catches fire, it doesn't matter what sport is being played.

SPEEDWAY, SCENE OF FAMOUS RACES, HAS BEEN SOLD

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, a 70-mile an hour daredevil of the automobile tracks 30 years ago, will be only a visitor from the aviation business when the grounding speedsters compete next May 30 in their first 500-mile race since 1941.

"Rick" sold the two and a half mile Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday to Anton Hulman, Jr., Terre Haute, Ind., sportsman and financier, for a price reported unofficially as about $750,000. Rickengacker bought the plant in 1927 for $700,000.

The colorful captain, who went back to automobiles after shooting down 21 German airplanes and five balloons in the first World War, had to make a choice between his first love and his job as president of Eastern Air Lines. The newer mode of transportation won.

"The demands of running Eastern Airlines make it impossible for me to give the speedway the attention which it demands and it is fortunate that I am able to dispose of my interest to Mr. Hulman," Rickenbacker said.

JAPANESE OPERATED MODEL PRISON CAMP WITHIN SHANGHAI

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 15—(AP)—The Japs operated a model prison camp in Shanghai during the war, apparently for the benefit of probing committees from the International Red Cross and the Geneva convention, Lt. Comdr. G. Mason Kahn, U. S. Marine Corps reserve, said here today.

Commander Kahn was the first Galveston man to be captured by the Japs. He was one of two doctors on Wake Island and was taken prisoner with the fall of the Island Dec. 23, 1941.

At the Shanghai prison camp, Kahn said the prisoners were supplied with an 'adequate diet and adequate supply of medicine a complete library containing about 5000 volumes" and other facilities.

"All in all it was not too bad," he commented.

That the Shanghai camp was not representative of all Japanese prison camps quickly became evident to the former Galveston physician when eh was transferred to Hokkaido in the North Central portion of Japan.

"The picture in prison life changed then," Kahn said said. "There was a great insufficiency of food, their daily rations consisting of one cup of rice three times a day, sea-weed kelp and mildewed dry fish."

When he performed surgery on fellow prisoners, Kahn was forced to carry his patient for two miles and back after the operation was completed.

Ennis Sportsmen Organize "E" Club

ENNIS, Nov. 15.—(AP)—An "E" Club was organized here Tuesday evening for the purpose of boosting and supporting local sporting events in Ennis.

Lois C. Parks was elected president, Joe Tate was named vise president, and Dr. Walter Stout was selected as secretary and treasurer. Walter Glaspy was chosen as chairman of the membership committee.

An "E" club was sponsored here a number of years ago, but it was stopped during the war time. The old "E" club sponsored post-season football games, basketball tournaments, and provided the necessary backing of local events.

INVENTOR WITNESS IN PATENT CASE IN HOUSTON COURT

HOUSTON, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Truman B. Wayne, Houston inventor, again took the witness stand in federal Judge T. M. Kennerly's court today to answer questions put to him about his phosphate patents by J. T. Martin, attorney for the Humble Oil and Refining company.

The Humble company and the Texas company are defendants in the patent suit filed against them by Wayne, the Visco Products company and the National Lead Company, alleging the oil concerns were guilty of infringing patents in the use of phosphates to control oil well drilling mud.

Protesting that his patents were not "treatises on oil well drilling" Wayne replying to Martin's questions said his patents set out methods of using phosphates, and the exact amounts and other factors often were largely up to the discretion of the man actually drilling the oil well.

BYRON PRICE BLAMES FRANCE FOR TROUBLE IN GERMAN SECTOR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—(AP)—Byron Price said today that France is 'almost entirely responsible for failure to preserve Germany as an economic unit" as promised in the Potsdam agreement.

The former chief censor, who investigated relations between the military forces and German civilians for President Truman, talked to reporters after a call at the White House to discuss his formal report.

Price said France contends that Germany "is not ready for any sort of central government" and asserted her position is leading to the "economic dismemberment" of Germany.

"As long as you are not going to have a general government in Germany," he added, "there is not going to be any economic unity."

France, Price said, has objected to an over-all system of transportation, postal service, and crop control in Germany and will not agree to any kind of central plannig.

Price said the fur-power control council in Berlin operates on a unanimity rule and any one country can veto a proposal. France did not sign the Potsdam agreement, he added, but has adhered to it.

TWENTY-ONE JOBS REFERRALS MADE BY EMPLOYMENT OFFICE

Twenty-one referrals to jobs were reported during the week of November 8-14 at the U. S. Employment Service office here with eight hired.

Seventy registered for work and 131 employment opportunities were reported with the principal demands locally being for unskilled laborers, railroad laborers, domestic workers, laundry, service station attendants, dishwashers, shoe repairmen, machinists and wool pressers.

Due to lay-offs and reconversion in other areas and the great number of service men discharged from the armed forces the flow of activity in the local office is steadily increasing. Many workers are looking for jobs which will be permanent where they can be assured of a steady income.

The principal manpower available are bookkeepers, general office workers, truck-drivers, automobile and aircraft mechanics and laborers.

TEXAS CONGRESSMAN DRAFTS LEGISLATION ON IMPORTS OF WOOL

REP. FISHER WOULD IMPOSE QUOTAS ON IMPORTS OF BRITISH WOOL

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—(AP)—Armed with statistics and data obtained from the U. S. Tariff Commission, Rep. Fisher (D-Tex) today set about drafting legislation to impose quotas on the imports of British wool.

Fisher plans to seek support for his proposal when Western producers gather here for hearings to open next Monday before the special O'Mahoney Senate wool investigating committee.

In its final form, said Fisher, his measure will specify that the tariff commission fix quotas on the basis of domestic production and domestic requirements, with the existing stockpiles of surplus wools owned by both the United States and Great Britain taken into acount. Although it would provide a flexible formula, the imports of British wools probably would be limited to about 00,000,000 pounds per year, he said.

Here are some figures which Fisher contends justifies the levying of import quotas on wool, as exists now cotton, wheat, sugar and other commodities.

World Production

The normal world production of wool is 4,000,000,000 pounds. The production of the United Kingdom, primarily Australia and New Zealand, is 1.668,000,000 pounds. The American production is 450,000,000 pounds.

The British now have a stockpile of 5,000,000,000 pounds. The U. S. government, which has bought all the domestic clip for the past three years through the Commodity Credit Corporation, has a 5,000,000-pound stockpile. These stockpiles were built up early in the war as a precaution against the possibility that the Japanese would cut off the shipping lanes to Australia. Much of the British stockpile is held in bonded storage in warehouses in this country, and was placed here with the understanding that it would not be dumped on the American market. Nevertheless, its very presence worries American producers. In addition to these supplies, manufacturers in the United States have stocks aggregating an additional 200,000,000 pounds.

The post-war consumption of wool in the United States, the U. S. Tariff Commission estimates, will be about 750,000,000 pounds yearly. This compares with a wartime domestic consumption of slightly over 1,000,000,000 pounds annually, but is almost 25 percent greater than the pre-war yearly consumption.

The British, on the basis of their own demands and taking into consideration current production and the 5,000,000,000 stockpile, are estimated to have an exportable surplus of about 1,440,000,000 pounds annually. This surplus is to be disposed of by the British government, Fisher said, adding he has informtaion the "issue price" on British wools soon is to be reduced from its present figure of $1.05 per pound, clean basis.

Ceiling Price

The CCC now pays the OPA ceiling price of $1.18 for American wools. The domestic clip has continued to move, despite the difference, partially because the U. S. government in ordering its uniforms and blankets requires that a certain percentage be made from American-grown wools.

The British wools now undersell the American clip by 13 cents a pound, in spite of the fact that a tariff of about 30 cents a pound is paid.

"In view of the tremendous world stockpiles of wool," concluded Fisher, "it is imperative that some steps be taken to protect the American wool growers. These stockpiles constitute a continuous threat."

J. L. HOLLINGSWORTH HAS BEEN AWARDED SILVER STAR MEDAL

James L. Hollingsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hollingsworth of Blooming Grove, was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action on February 4, 1945, near Ubenbreth, Germany, according to information released from U. S. Headquarters Berlin District, and Headquarters of the First Airborne Army.

Hollingsworth, then a first class private with the 80th Airborne antiaircraft battalion, located the positions of enemy mortar when the town was under heavy fire from German 120 mm. mortars and tiger royal tanks, went to his exposed gun under direct enemy observation, and with complete disregard of the fire directed on his position, singlehandedly manned the piece, fired eleven rounds of ammunition and wiped out the enemy mortar, the official announcement of the award states.

His courageous conduct and skilled performance of duty under extremely hazardous conditions eliminated a direct threat to his forces and reflected the highest traditions of the Airborne Forces of the U. S. Army, the official record further afirms.

Sgt. Hollingsworth entered the service from Dallas. His wife is the former Imogene Shell.

BRONZE STAR MEDAL HAS BEEN AWARDED LEROY H. JOHNSON

WITH THE 96TH DIVISION IN THE PHILIPPINES.—Pfc. Leroy H. Johnson of Winkler has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for heroic action on Okinawa.

An automatic rifleman in the 383rd Infantry Regiment, 96th Division, Pfc. Johnson also saw action with the "Deadeye" division in the liberation of Leyte, where he was awarded the Combat Infantryman's Badge and the Philippine Liberation Ribbon.

In awarding Pfc. Johnson the medal, Major General James L. Bradley, division commander, cited him as follows:

Private First Class Johnson's company was dug in for the night when at 0130 on the morning of May 26 a flare suddenly burst in the sky and immediately in front of Private First Class Johnson's foxhole he spied three infiltrating Japs. He quickly raised up out of his foxhole and killed the three Japs. He then noticed what seemed to be four more of the enemy trying to crawl up to his hole. Then he saw two more Japs crawling up a small ditch, which he could not reach by fire, so he crawled out of his foxhole disregarding his own personal safety and went after the Japs. He threw a grenade betweenu the Japs, killing them both. In the morning it was found that he had killed eleven Japs.

Prior to entering the service, he worked for the American Well and Prospecting Co., of Cosicana. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Johnson of Winkler.

Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Moore of Ennis were in Corsicana Tuesday evening en route to an American Legion meeting at Kerens. Moore, a former lieutenant-colonel in the U. S. Air Forces, is district 6 chairman of the American Legion. ....
